

June 17, 2019 – 5:30 pm

SUWS Member Meeting – Cedar City Library

President Presiding – Teri Rochford

Taking Minutes - Self

1. When you are exhibiting, and an e-mail is sent about pick up, I'm asking that you take the time to respond to it to confirm that you or someone else is picking them up, let me or chairperson know who is picking up your art. Those who do respond, I appreciate it.
2. Frontier Homestead is July and August. Pass around the forms for it and on the table. Hanging is Sunday June 30th, 12-2pm and Monday July 1st 12-2pm. The Reception (which is also our July Member Meeting), July 6th, 1-3 pm. It is Potluck, bring a dish. Pass out cards for members to spread around town.

Volunteers needed

Make Labels

To Help Hang

Set up potluck

3. September is the Mesquite Invitational, our group can have 20 painting. Pass around a clip board for signups, if your interested.. Its conveniently the next day after pickup from the Frontier museum. I can pick them up from there and take to Mesquite the next day. We can use a few people to drive down and help set up our exhibit.
4. How many would be interested in a 2 day workshop by Julie Rodgers in fall or 2020? She has agreed to do one, It's just a matter of what date.

5. Introduce our Guest speakers,

Stacy Phillips

Stacy Phillips has lived in Utah since 1987. She is currently living and working in Salt Lake City, Utah. She is a Sculpture and Abstract painter and the Representative of Golden Paint supplies.

“There are infinite possibilities and challenges in creating work when you think of the materials and concepts that are available to the open mind. I am fascinated and addicted to the process of making art. To be submersed from the beginning of an idea through the course of execution is the state of the creative process that I wish to reside. My intent is to absorb as much about this process as I can both technically and conceptually in my life time. To challenge myself throughout the journey of creating art and to maintain the passion of the desire.”

Close meeting;